

Teatwand EXACT

Save on labour and your pocket

We have had a Teatwand for nearly 10 years now. A Teatwand 400 back in the day, then we upgraded to an Exact when they came out. We milk 12 months of the year and keeping our Teatwand in good condition is important. We do most of our own maintenance. Pretty easy really, there has always been great back up from the Onfarm guys when we get stuck. They are easy to deal with, know their stuff and do what they say they will.

Teatwand Exact

- Suitable for most rotary platforms
- Excellent pre or post spray spraying capability
- High quality construction - designed with mastitis specialists
- Laser position sensor, twin nozzles and a fully-adjustable touchscreen allow excellent teat spray coverage with efficient use of teat spray
- Platform speed tracking for accurate teat spraying
- "Cow sensors" detect if there is a cow in the stall. No cow, no spray, no waste
- The patented spring setup is designed for the cows' protection and to limit damage to the Teatwand. Should the nozzle head come into contact with a cows' leg, the spring will deflect away and return ready for the next spray sequence
